Michael Spicer (The Room Next Door) is a recurring guest star, with © 1990-2022 by IMDb.com, Inc. The series began on Boxing Day with a double bill but now all eight episodes are available on iPlayer, for anyone who missed this gem over the frantic festive period. There are plenty of red herrings in episode one and, based on the twists and turns in previous series, this will not be an easy case for Jenn, her boss or viewers to crack.★★★ IM You Are What You Eat, 8pm, Channel 5Dr Amir Khan with Helen, who makes some dramatic lifestyle changes. It's in at the deep end, as Jenn's first case finds her dealing with the family of a promising young boxer found dead in Morescambe Bay. (Image credit: Channel 5)Overweight Helen, 48, is at an all-time low when she starts the programme's eight-week plan. (Image credit: Disney+)The Avengers and X-Men welcome another team of superheroes to the Marvel Cinematic Universe this week when an A-list cast, including Angelina Jolie, Gemma Chan and Salma Hayek, embark on an epic battle against the forces of evil. Marsha Thomason joins the cast for series three. The action then jumps to the present day, where we find the superheroes now living secretly and scattered around the world. This year, the emphasis is on climate change as the artists head out across the UK coastline and countryside, beginning with their first assignment at the Eden Project in Cornwall.★★★★ MCBest box set to watch on TV tonightAround the World in 80 Days, BBC iPlayerPhileas Fogg with Passepartout and Abigail Fix. Meanwhile, her two kids face challenges of their own as, having relocated from Manchester, they must adjust to their new school. The action still takes place in 1872, yet David Tennant's Phileas Fogg is more flawed and thoughtful than many of his predecessors, while tenacious journalist Abigail Fix (Leonie Benesch) is another refreshing addition to a tale that has something for all the family. (Image credit: Sky)The show that turns the phrase 'watching paint dry' on its head returns. For full TV listings for the week, see thetimes.co.uk/tvplannerViewing guide, by Joe ClayMandyBBC2, 10pm/10.15pmDiane Morgan's titular wonky-mouthed grotesque returns for a second series of her absurdist urban adventures. Also needing some healthy help is 28-year-old Leonie, whose beige diet is a disaster for her insides and self-esteem.★★★ JLLandscape Artist of the Year, 8pm, Sky ArtsNOWJoan Bakewell and Stephen Mangan host. (Image credit: BBC)Jules Verne's classic novel has been adapted for the screen many times over the decades, yet this spectacular eight-part series will bring the story to a new generation of viewers. The film is directed by Oscar-winning director Chloé Zhao (Nomadland) and begins in 5000 BC when 10 superpowered heroes – the Eternals – are sent by the god-like Celestials to Earth to protect humanity from lizard-like monsters called Deviants. On Channel 5 two more brave souls embark on a weight loss journey in You Are What You Eat and on Sky Arts Landscape Artist of the Year 2022 begins. It's not something you'd get on Amazon Prime or BFI Player." Hear, hear! As well as starring as Mandy Carter, Morgan writes and directs the series, and has assembled an excellent cast to support her." "At this time of debate about the future of the BBC, a second series of Mandy could not be more timely," Morgan has said. (Image credit: ITV)There's a new Family Liaison Officer in town as Jenn Townsend (Marsha Thomason) takes over from Lisa Armstrong, in series three of the crime drama. "If anything proves the worth of the corporation it's a show about a woman who wants to breed doberman pinschers. A secret binge-eater, she's in a vicious circle – the more weight she gains, the worse she feels and the more she eats – but with the help of Trisha Goddard and her team, the transformation in body and mind is remarkable. The cast is outstanding and the action slick and addictive as Fix, Fogg and his valet Passepartout (Ibrahim Koma) set off on their epic and thrilling journey.
