Photo of courtesy: Paramount Pictures / IMDB Everyone thinks that cinema is a great adventure - and sometimes it is. The actors make a lot of money to perform in the character for the camera, and the administrators and crew members pour an incredible talent in creating "magic films" which makes everything simple and fun. However, some of the most famous films in history had thus challenging and frustrating productions that everyone has worried that they would have been flops for offices "or completely demolished before completion. Take a look at our list of fantastic films struck that almost don't have Made the big screen. Oz's wizard is an iconic classic, so it is difficult to believe that the bright show 1939 mgm was almost never done. From the beginning, it took 17 screenwriters and six directors to face the project. When They finally resume, the shooting was a disaster. Photo of courtesy: silver screen collection / getty images The original Tin Man, Buddy Ebsen, had to be replaced by Jack Haley due to an aluminum make-up allergy. The faithful Dorothy canine companion, toto, maleatto, and western actress's evil witch Margaret Hamilton was accidentally burned during shooting. Despite the difficulties, the film He collected over $ 2 million and remains a timeless classic. The 1962 Drama Fitzcarraldo's adventure had one of the most difficult productions in the history of cinema. The film was director Werner Herzog, the crazy story of the real rubber baron Carlos Fermin Fitzcarrald. Shot in South America, one of the most famous scenes of the film involves dragging a gigantic steamer on a hill. Photo of courtesy: Jean-Louis Atlan / Sygma / Getty Images Herzog has stubbornly rejected with miniature effects and insisted that they shoot at the scene with a real 320 ton-toned steamer. The scene was a disaster - there were numerous wounds and even dead. The actors suffered from dysentery, and two small aircraft have led to further injured. It is a miracle that the film has ever been completed. Rapa-Nui has been almost destined from the beginning. The historical drama of 1994 focuses on the history of the easter island. Director Kevin Reynolds described the film's shot as a "nightmare". It was difficult to do due to the distance of the position. Photo of courtesy: Warner bros./imdb flights from and to Chile the mainland were scarce. Reynolds said, "We had a week a week from the mainland, and there were times that we finished the food to feed people." In addition to the challenges of shooting, the film has collected only $ 305,000. However, apparently Reynolds did not learn the lesson of him. After this office bomb, he immediately addressed another difficult film: Waterworld. The science fiction of 1995 Thriller Waterworld involved many areas of water shooting, which turned out to be an expensive headache for all the subjects involved. The director Kevin Reynolds and his film crew had to build artificial islands distantly at sea, which quickly swallowed the budget of $ 100 million. Foto Cortesy: universal actors / getty images, including Kevin Costner, were transported from dry land towards the shooting seats. Also, Costner is almost dead when he was captured in a shabby one. There were also wounded two stuntmen, and the young co-protagonist Tina Maiorino was pungen three times with jellyfish. In the end, Reynolds walked away from the project, and Costner concluded the film itself. It is a miracle that no one has been killed during the realization of the Thriller of the 1981 adventure thriller. The film focuses on the preservation of wild fauna Hank (Noel Marshall), which lives with a lion managerie, tigers and other animals Wild. Marshall, who also wrote, direct and produced the film, decided to work More than 100 live animals - really. Photo Courtesy: FINAMWAYS PICTURES / IMDB approximately 70 cast and crew members immediately wounded. Marshall's wife, Tippi Hedren, was bitten by a lion in her throat, and her stepdaughter, Melanie Griffith, suffered a face injury. Cinema Jan de Bont has almost had its scalp off. If you look at the movie movie Everyone seem scared, because they were. If you think a drama of a group of teenagers in the 1960s would be easy to do, rethink. George Lucas's "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom" 1973 film American graffiti had many complications behind the scenes. First, a member of the crew was arrested for the growth of marijuana. The actor Paul The Mat has undergone an allergic reaction to a walnut, and Richard Dreyfuss's head was opened open. Photo of courtesy: Universal images / Getty Images Furthermore, Harrison Ford was arrested during a bar fight, and someone has set fire to the hotel room Lucas. The film was a disaster in doing, but it has become an acclaimed film of the 70s. He collected $ 750,000 and remains a classic cult until today. James Cameron, 1989 Drama of science fiction The abyss was an ambitious project. Characterized by a series of underwater scenes, the submarine oil system has requested 18 months to build. The budget of the film was around $ 2 million. Members of the cast and crew have often worked 70 hours a week, and the actors of Ed Harris and Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio were on the edge of a mental collapse. Photo courtesy: 20th century Fox / IMDB at one point, Merantonio screamed at Cameron, "We are not animals!" This was in response to the suggestion of the Director according to which the actors should urinate in their mutes to save time between the preens. While the film was well received critically and blocked $ 90 million, everyone was happy when it was over. The director Richard Stanley desperately wanted the search for his dream project: an adaptation of H.G. Wells, "The Island of Dr. Moreau". Stanley was particularly electrified when acclaimed the Marlon Brando actor signed to play the title role. But then, three days to shoot the 1996 Thriller, Stanley was fired. Photo of courtesy: New Line / Getty Images Actor Val Kilmer came to Stanley, and the intense topics have brought the producers to deprive him and take John Frankenheimer as a substitute. However, it was not the end of the problems, as the Kilmer and Brando started did not agree. (Someone who thinks maybe the problem was Kilmer?) Francis Ford Coppola was determined to continue his manager success after Godfather. He decided to adapt the novel of the Heart of Joseph Conrad, in an epic war film on the Futility of Vietnam's conflict. This project has become the 1979 Drama apocalypse now. Photo of courtesy: Catherine Milinaire / Sygma / Getty Images AFITTO for realism, Coppola shot the film in the Philippines. Shooting lasted more than a year, and all have undermined terrible writing storms and scriptures. The main actor Martin Sheen has also suffered a heart attack. Coppola described shooting, "We were in the jungle, we had too much money, we had too many equipment, and little by little, we went crazy." Similar to the Apocalypse now, the 1980 drama drama gate, the spiral control gate. The film fell behind the program and made the budget. The director Michael Cimino is the obsession for the details of the period and precision led to repeated reconstructions for sets. Furthermore, Cimino insisted on a useless number to take - once waiting for a particular cloud of floating. Seriously? Photo courtesy: Mondadori / Getty Images In the end, Cimino spent about $ 44 million on production costs and the film has collected only $ 3.5 million at the box office. While he developed a worship that follows, he didn't earn enough money to justify the investment. Cimino learned the lesson of him? Cleopatra always intends to be great. The romantic epic 1963 has recited Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton, and the extensive budget allowed for the production crew build elaborate sets. The film The most expensive film ever made - it is almost bankruptcy the 20th century fox. Courtesy photo: API / Range / Range-Rapho / Getty Images Director Joseph L. Mankiewicz has replaced Rouben Mamoulian shortly after starting the recovery, and the production stopped when Taylor is seriously freed. Some of the elaborate sets have not been used. Taylor and Burton started an intense affair of love that brought a lot of negative attention to the film. movie. Everything, the film is still considered as the most glamorous historical epic. The doctor's doctor of the musical fantasy of 1967 was disturbed by the beginning. He had a difficult star (Rex Harrison), terrible time for shooting, rebel animals, expensive retailers and poorly chosen shooting positions. It was a disaster, and no one liked to work on the film, including local residents in the village of Wiltshire of Castle Combe, United Kingdom. Photo of courtesy: Silver Screen Collection / Getty Images Construction for the film The annoyed residents, which had to remove their television antennas from their homes due to the historical period of the film. The film cost more than $ 17 million and collected only $ 6.2 million. The Remake of 1998, with the comedian Eddie Murphy, went much better. The director William Friedkin is known to go "everything out" for his films. The exorcist manager built a gigantic bridge over a Dominican Republic river for his 1977 Thriller sorcerer. When the river bed wiped, Friedkin moved to Mexico, where he built another bridge over the Papaloapan river. This river has also dried before the shooting began. Photos Courtesy: Universal Pictures / IMDB Rivers Weren't they? The only drama. During filming, 50 crew members became sick with malaria, poisoning from food and gangrene. However, Friedkin does not give up. Everyone else didn't go to work on the film, but the director says he "wouldn't change a frame" of the film. In pre-CGI days, the 1984 horror horror movie, Gremlins faced many complications. The director Joe Dante and the creative team of him addressed problems caused by the dozens of creatures' effects films. "We were inventing the technology as we went ahead, as well as deviating from the script while we discovered new aspects of the characters of Gremlins," Dante explained. Photo courtesy: Eamonn M. McCormack / Getty Images added, "really made crazy after a while. The studio was not particularly favorable." The process of shooting the special effects has become so hard that the scene in which Gizmo is pelled with Darts has been added to the film strictly to satisfy the crew. The Elaine director can confess: "I knew he recited, but I didn't know anything about the movie." She admitted to hearing the 1987 Ishtar's adventure was a "hunting-up". For one thing, shoot in the Sahara desert was a bad idea. May and his crew were fearful that they would have been kidnapped, trapped in land mines or captured in the middle of a civil war "if they survived heat. Photo of courtesy: the images of Columbia / IMDB tensions grew up between May and the cast. The director sometimes snapped scenes more than 50 times. The film costs $ 51 million and collected only one third of his budget. The film has Dustin Hoffman but not much of a cult that follows. It may not have direct a movie since then. The screenplay for the 1992 science fiction thriller Thriller Alien 3 was repeatedly rewritten, even after the sets were built and the production had already begun. Various directors worked on the project before David Fincher did a one. During L. Entire production process, Fincher was frustrated by cast producers, crew and study. Photo courtesy: Rolf Konow / Sygma / Corbis / Getty Images had to repeat Repeatedly different scenes and manufacturers then portray the film behind the director. Finally it has become so upset by the film that he refused to be associated with it. He was happy to be done with the project, and we can't really blame him to hear him that way. Originally, Brad Pitt should have stellar in the science fiction drama of 2006 the fountain. The film centered around him, but then has Fall the image due to script disagreements only weeks before production. The director Darren Aronofsky struggled to find a replacement actor - in the end he chose Hugh Jackman - and Warner Bros. closes production. Photo of courtesy: Warner Bros./imdb Two years later, Aronofsky returned to the project with a smaller budget of $ 35 million. From beginning to end, he took him almost five years old Get the movie on the big screen. The result was a film with an extraordinary aspect that has still collected only $ 10 million at the box office. Trey Parker and Matt Stone 2004 Action Satire action of the war at terror, team America: the world police, was turned with puppets on a stage and transformed into a demanding production. They produced the film with puppets that have taken four people to operate. Some shots were so complex that they did a whole day to film. Photo of courtesy: Pietra Paramount / IMDB commented, "It was the worst moment of my whole life, I never want to see a puppet again". Stone and Parker have promised that they would never again again another film. To this day, they kept the word on that front. If you think there is no drama that produces an animated film, retracts. Disney movies, the new groove of the emperor has had many problems. Originally entitled The Kingdom of the Sun, the film had to be marked by registering the artist sting. However, the songs of him were abandoned after a Tepid response and the original director (Allers Roger) left the project. Photo of courtesy: Walt Disney Production / IMDB New Director Mark Dindal has entered save the project. The film budget was revised and Dindal had to work quickly to transform the film into a critical and financial success. Despite the frantic rhythm, Dindal has succeeded and the film has collected $ 169 million. Following the Universal's success with the imagination of 1999 the mummy, director Mark Romanek created the 2010 Wolfman. Unfortunately, the film had some hairy problems. Four weeks in production, Romanek stop, and Joe Johnston took over. He requested many retailers, and a new screenwriter was led to change the end of the original script. Photo of courtesy: Universal images / IMDB also, creator visual effects struggled to complete the final scenes of the film. The new publishers were added to the production and score of Danny Elfman was abandoned, only to be reinstated later. Although the film has collected $ 139 million, he did not approach the success of mummy. Marc Forster 2013 Sciences Fiction Thriller World War WARE Z has requested more extras than the average film. Many of the infuriated zombies of the film were reached by CGI, but hundreds of others were extra vents. A scene turned to Malta required 900 extra. The number of people on the set reached about 1,500 to a point. Photo of courtesy: Paramount Pictures / IMDB The film has hit many problems, including the seizure of a huge weapons cache by officials from an anti-terrorism unit. Several scenes of action were scratched at the last minute, and the finish has been changed several times. The film costs $ 190 million, but it was a solid financial success at the box office, draw up $ 540 million. Director George Miller spent 14 years of the life of him working at 2015 Science Fantasy Mad Max: fury road. He insisted on shooting the film with as many practical special effects possible, and has repeatedly crashed cars for the movie's scenes. Photo of courtesy: Warner Bros. Images / IMDb Furthermore, the film started without an official script. Instead, Miller used hundreds of storyboards. When the shooting was finished, he had 400 hours of movies available. He must have taken a long time to modify the film, but it was worth it. The film eventually won an Academy Award for the best cinematographic editing. Director Ridley Scott was enthusiastic about working on the film Adaption of Philip K. Dick. 1968 Novel Do Androids Dream of electric sheep? However, he probably had no idea how difficult he has become Of the fantasy lama of the fantasy of 1982. He had a fractured relationship with the cast and crew, leading to many heated debates. Photo of courtesy: Sunset Boulevard / Corbis / Getty Images Harrison Ford seemed bored most of the time on the set, and several collaborators described shooting as "torture". The last shot was captured as the producers arrived to pull the plug. The film did not take off at the beginning, but it grew up in a cult worn Years from his version. The producers thought that the pirates of the Caribbean should not have been made. In 2002, Disney CEO Michael Eisner tried to pull the plug, not wanting another box office flop as the country's bears. Even the actress Keira Knightley had doubts about him. When she was asked of her next project, she said, "It's a thing of pirate-probably a disaster." Photo of courtesy: Walt Disney Pictures / IMDB producers not appreciated Johnny Depp "Keith Richards" Take Sparrow Jack. Eisner was sure he would ruin the film. Despite all the negativity, the film has collected over $ 650 million at the global box office and generated a worshiped franchise. When Comic Book Expert Michael Uslan started working for DC comics, he had the vision of buying the rights for Batman and make a serious film on the crusade with a hood. When he told Vice President Sol Harrison on him idea him, Harrison warned him the brand had died and to abandon the project. Photo of courtesy: Sunset Boulevard / Corbis / Getty Images Nobody supported him, so Uslan started working without script or a crew. When Michael Keaton actor has signed a star like Batman, fans sent more than 50,000 letters in protest. However, when the film was presented on loan in 1989, he collected $ 411 million globally - and Keaton became the best Batman to date. He took time to return to the future from the ground. Robert Zemeckis and Bob Gale Job Gale Gale, science fiction of science fiction was rejected by Studios for years. Finally, the famous director Steven Spielberg signed as a producer, and the film found a house with universal images. Photo of courtesy: Universal Pictures / IMDB Producers loved the idea of Michael J. Fox with a protagonist of Marty McFly, but they were not sure he could engage for the film because of his television series, family ties. Originally launched the Actor Mask Eric Stoltz, but was fired, and Fox assumed the role. The film has collected over 381 million dollars around the world and generated a successful franchise. Star Wars is one of the largest franchises of all time. The first film, released in 1977, had broad special effects, dropping the film to fall behind the program almost immediately. It seemed a hopeless attempt sometimes. Photo of courtesy: LMPC / Getty Images George Lucas has passed the movie budget and was forced to divide his crew into three separate units to finish the film. Fox executives were convinced Star Wars would have been a flop, but they were wrong - very, very wrong. Star Wars was a colossal shot, and the rest is the intergalactic history. Thought after the experience of James Cameron by moving the abyss, he would have avoided water-based films. Instead, he directed the historical drama of 1997 Titanic. The shot didn't go very well and the crew members described Cameron as "300-decibel Screamer". Furthermore, actors endured hours in cold water. Photo of courtesy: Paramount Pictures / IMDB at a certain point, a crew member pushed the lobster soup with a hallucinogenic drug, which sent Cameron and more than 50 people at the hospital. The budget was blown out of the water, but it worked at the end. The film has collected more than $ 2 billion and won Academy Awards for the best image and best director. The director Stanley Kubrick was determined to turn the Stephen King the shine in a perfect movie. The flow of psychological horror of 1980 was a long production. Kubrick has ordered more resumes, he often resumes scenes than 100 times. The famous "Here is the Johnny scene", which included Jack Torrance (Jack Nicholson) which forces an ax through a door, used three days for films and destroyed more than 60 doors. Photo of courtesy: Warner / Getty Images only had to take 100 days to film the film, but the production actually lasted 250 days. According to what reported, Kubrick was so difficult to work with that hair of the actress Shelley Duval started falling, and she suffered from a nervous break. Yikes! There has never been a film like the Jaws Drama of the horror of 1975. The film has seriously gone the budget due to mechanical problems with Bruce, Bruce, False shark of the film. The crew members called the movie "defects". It just had to take 55 days to film the film, but it turned into 159 days. Photo of courtesy: Universal images / IMDB in the meantime, actors Richard Dreyfuss and Robert Shaw were in a bitter feida. He didn't help that the boat's boat had a broken hull and really started sinking. Spielberg was sure that her career was over, but the film has collected over $ 100 million and became one of the most popular films ever made. done.
